Notwithstanding the provisions of this rule, the Company will not render a bill based on estimated usage for more than two consecutive billing periods without prior notification to the Commission, nor for an initial or final bill for service, unless otherwise agreed to by the residential customer and the Company.

The Company will estimate bills using data and a computation specific to each residential customer. The estimate is determined by the length of service to the residential customer at the service location: X

1. If the residential customer has been served by the Company at the same location for the previous year, the estimated bill will be based on the residential customer's actual kilowatt hour usage for the same month in the previous year and billed using the applicable Company tariffs, and may be adjusted for known price changes and normalized weather conditions. 2. If the residential customer has not been served by the Company at the same location for the previous year at that location, the estimated bill will be based on the actual usage at that location for the previous month and billed using the applicable Company tariffs, and may be adjusted for known price changes and normalized weather conditions. The Company will, for no less than twelve (12) months, maintain accurate records of the reasons for each estimate and of the efforts made to secure an actual reading.

If the Company underestimates a residential customer's usage and subsequently seeks to correct the bill, the residential customer shall be given an opportunity to participate in an installment payment plan with regard to the underestimated amount.

Upon request, the Company will explain to any residential customer how to read and report electric usage. Upon an agreement between a residential customer and the Company, a residential customer may read and report the electric usage, as long as such usage is reported on a regular and accurate basis. The Company will provide a reasonable means for the residential customer to report the meter readings. In such a case, at least annually, the Company will obtain an actual meter reading of residential customer usage in order to verify the accuracy of readings reported in this manner. This rule shall not prevent the Company from reading meters on a regular basis.
